We are offering more flexibility for those who wish to purchase courses in bulk. Committing to all your PD hours at the time of purchase will earn you maximum savings. Not sure which courses you want to take to fill your hours at the time of purchase? No problem! AJAG Hours gives you the flexibility to choose your course later. You can also switch from one course to another, provided the course hasn't been started yet.

We know that PD needs can change throughout the year, especially as we introduce new content. We are also offering you the flexibility to swap out courses if you find ones later that suit your PD needs better.
